

Global Security, Delivered.

Merletti Gonzales (MG) is a respected International Security Firm. We have experience in all aspects of security and conduct business in numerous domestic and international venues. Our founders, Lew Merletti and Ralph Gonzales, have over 75 years of combined experience in military, law enforcement, as well as successful careers with the United States Secret Service. Lew Merletti, former Director and Ralph Gonzales, former Senior Executive of the U.S. Secret Service went on to extend their security careers as executives in professional sports and the oil and gas industries.

Our Senior Associates are highly skilled advisors with a wide range of experience and are well-respected members within the global security industry and law enforcement community. We have an extensive network of contacts across the globe that aid in facilitating the worldwide needs of our clients.

OIL AND GAS INDUSTRY

MG has extensive experience securing oil and gas facilities throughout the world. Our company is well versed in designing and executing security plans for oil and gas facilities, pipelines and maritime operations. We have successfully implemented these strategies in Yemen, Iraq-Kurdistan, Romania, Peru and West Africa. Additionally, our company is knowledgeable and certified in International Ships and Port Facility Security (ISPS).

Our teams are expert security professionals who held positions as Senior Security Executives, International Security Directors and Country Security Managers for major oil and gas companies. MG has confronted a variety of scenarios to include terrorist and criminal threats and civil unrest.

Foreign Experience

Merletti Gonzales has built valuable relationships with foreign governments, military, law enforcement and corporate security communities through strong partnerships and support programs. Ralph Gonzales, was instrumental in assisting with the development of the Oil Police Force (OPF) in Iraq-Kurdistan. The OPF's primary responsibility was to safeguard and protect the region's oil and gas assets and personnel. Mr. Gonzales worked alongside the Kurdistan Ministry of Interior and Ministry of Natural Resources to achieve a successful outcome. Currently, the OPF remains a security force multiplier for the country.

Mr. Gonzales along with one of our Senior Associates were members of the exclusive Oil Companies of the Middle East (OCME) Security Group. This council consisted of major corporate oil and gas security executives who shared intelligence, contacts, and security strategies with a mission of prevention, planning, and enhancing their respective company's security capabilities.
